

Group5F schematic desing and system developments contains a wide range of physical investigations to meet design criterias within the architectural and technical requirements on each individual project demands.

Therefore Group5F prepare physical calculations, thermal diagrams, acoustic reports and simulations to achieve necessary curtain wall and cladding development performances that meets the projects requirements.